pure teas	2
Symbolised by the mythical phoenix, Emeyu pure teas strive for the same goodness and high achievement as the bird that flies on the borders to heaven. Brimming with flavour and health, our pure teas are specially selected from Chinese tea workshops with longstanding reputations for creating superior teas. The combination of raw product sourced from its traditional growing region and meticulous processing make Emeyu pure teas a delightful journey of discovery and taste.
precious teas	6
Symbolised by the dragon, a Chinese emblem of imperial authority once reserved only for the Emperor, Emeyu precious teas are the pinnacle of refinement and quality. Our distinctive collection of the finest leaves has been carefully sourced from the most respected tea gardens. A luxury to be savoured and an experience to share, Emeyu precious teas reveal new levels of depth when brewed according to the proper ritual, which allow each tea to fully develop its unique flavour and aroma.
fragrant teas	9
Symbolised by the butterfly, an emblem of young love, joy and long life, Emeyu fragrant teas are a sensory journey that nurtures the body. Created by adding exquisite fruit and flower essences to loose tea leaf, our fragrant teas offer a potpourri of flavour, filled with unexpected delights and inspired combinations. Emeyu fragrant teas are unique blends with subtle layers of taste and aroma, which manage to be comfortingly familiar yet vibrantly fresh.
gifts and tea collections	14
Giving an Emeyu experience spreads joy and health. Our signature green boxes are beautiful additions to any home and always met with delight. The dragon, phoenix and butterfly designs symbolise goodness, love and exclusivity while the underlying cloud design symbolise long life, the perfect message for someone special. For small occasions and dinner parties choose a "two – in – one" with a mix of teas that suits the person in mind. For grander occasions such as birthdays and weddings "the library" always impresses.

organic pai mu tan	£5.20	£9.20
From the lush mountains of Fujian Province, Organic Pai Mu Tan is a calming white tea that is high in natural antioxidants. Pure, naturally dried and unprocessed Pai Mu Tan leaves yield a refreshing, slightly astringent flavour with notes of fresh melon and vanilla, touched with chestnut and freshly cut grass. origin: Fujian, China ingredients: organic white tea 50g
xue long	£5.20	£9.20
An embodiment of the clean air and pure water of Fujian Province, Xue Long's sublimely refreshing flavour carries sweet tones of Galia melon and pear amidst the characteristic taste notes of fresh grass. Some liken this distinctive infusion to a white tea version of the famous Long Jing (Dragon Well). origin: Fujian, China ingredients: white tea 50g green
bi lo chun	£14.40	£18.40
Bi Lo Chun is a rare and celebrated Chinese green tea, which grows on two beautiful mountains in Jiangsu. Made only once a year from the most tender shoots of the first spring flush, the tea's dark jade green leaves, delicately snail-shaped, yield a marble white infusion with succulent notes of grassy green, peach, apricot and plum blossom. origin: Jiangsu, China ingredients: green tea 125g e mei spring	£6.90	£10.90
Clear your mind and quench your thirst with E Mei Spring. This ethereal green tea, which is reminiscent of Chun Mee, is made from tiny, delicately curled leaves for a slightly astringent, full-bodied and thoroughly hydrating infusion. origin: Zhejiang, China ingredients: green tea 125g en shi yu lu	£9.40	£13.40
En Shi Yu Lu is a masterpiece from Hubei Province, noted for its rich tea heritage in Lu Yu's classic text. Its green leaf, reminiscent of a pine needle, acquires a characteristic black silver shine from special processing, which combines Japanese steaming and Chinese roasting methods. The warm golden infusion has a sharp, grassy palate with sweet undertones of straw, perfectly paired with dark chocolate. origin: Hubei, China ingredients: green tea 125g

jade snow	£4.50	£8.50
Jade Snow is fresh green tea from Yunnan. This long and slender leaf with its winsome white tips is carefully handcrafted to bring out the right flavour components. Notes of nectarine and apricot are perfectly balanced against the province's characteristic peppery notes. origin: Yunnan, China ingredients: green tea 50g long jing	£11.90	£15.90
A unique tea from Zhejiang Province, Long Jing is steeped in a rich heritage that extends back to Lu Yu's definitive book of tea in 760 AD. The flat green spear-like leaves created through meticulous pan-firing yield a clear yellow infusion, a smooth, melodious flavour with notes of citrus and a rich aroma. A pound of dry tea traditionally contains 25,000 handpicked bud and leaf sets, with the finest varieties containing only a leaf and a bud. origin: Zhejiang, China ingredients: green tea 125g mao feng	£5.10	£9.10
Brimming with the promise of long life, strength and vitality, Mao Feng is a remarkable tea from Yunnan Province. The leaf beams with white buds and delivers a peach-coloured infusion of pure taste, with notes of pepper, milk chocolate, pine and citrus and a fragrance of magnolia. origin: Yunnan, China ingredients: green tea 50g
mao jian	£11.90	£15.90
Refresh the mind with Mao Jian. An effortlessly drinkable green tea with a lively aroma that carries impressions of the ocean, smoke and fresh grass. The flavour is seductive and stimulating, not unlike the tea's tiny buds, which twist and dance in the hot water. An enchantingly spirited daily infusion of vigour. origin: Hunan, China ingredients: green tea 125g matcha-genmaicha	£7.40	£11.40
Matcha-Genmaicha is our version of the popular Japanese technique of blending the sparkly flavour of Matcha with the essential softness of Genmaicha for an extraordinarily fresh and soothing brew. This sweet and nutty infusion, with added zing, is perfect for cleansing mind and palate after a meal or anytime you need a fresh start. origin: Zhejiang, China ingredients: green tea, roasted wholemeal rice, matcha 125g lapsang souchong.....

A unique tea from the famous Wuyi Mountains in Fujian Province, Lapsang Souchong yields a dark red liquor with a distinctive smoky aroma and flavour, which results from its special processing. Its leaves are withered over pine fires, pan-fired and rolled, and then pressed into wooden barrels covered with cloth to oxidize. After another firing, the leaves are rolled into tight strips and left over smoking pine fires to dry.

origin: Fujian, China

ingredients: black tea smoked over pine needles
